

To witness a message of mercy and hope to a world in need.

“Community is first of all a quality of the heart. It grows from the spiritual knowledge that we are alive not for ourselves but for one another.”

—Father Henri Nouwen

This Fall, we have been inspired by the writings of Father Henri Nouwen (1932-1996).

A Dutch-born priest, professor, psychologist, and theologian, Father Nouwen taught psychology at the University of Notre Dame and theology at the Divinity Schools of Yale and Harvard before choosing to leave. After nearly two decades in academia, he longed to live more simply, to center his daily life on service to those in need. He joined the L'Arche Daybreak in Canada—a community for people with intellectual disabilities, where he continued his work as a pastor, writer, and speaker. He wrote with great openness and vulnerability about faith, spiritual formation, prayer, and social justice.

We Are Created For Community

Humans were created for community. We are made with hearts that seek connection, that long to love. Community is core to Catholic Charities' founding mission. For more than 100 years, we have met people and families where they are—serving anyone in need, regardless of their faith, gender, race, or ethnicity.

Serving means walking alongside our neighbors in need, making sure they are seen and heard. It means allowing ourselves to experience some part of their pain, so that we can truly connect with them, so that we can help them to find services and resources that will ease their burdens.

As our world absorbs the economic, political and social aftershocks of the pandemic, for the people we serve, the road continues to be a rocky one. This is why our calling—to witness a message of mercy and hope to a world in need—is so enduring.

As this report shows, our donors continue to step forward with vigor to support our mission. Your generosity is allowing us to do more for each person we serve and to reduce our reliance on government funding and the restrictions that come with it. Yet, we still have more work to do to close the funding gap, and there is so much more good we want to do!

We continue to trust that God will provide as we serve and innovate. And He has. We have been blessed by extraordinary generosity during the pandemic that has allowed us to not only weather this season, but to serve more deeply. We are grateful for every gift—each dollar matters to furthering our mission. We can't serve without you.

The call to connect and serve—to accompany our neighbors in need—runs deep at Catholic Charities. We are alive for each other. And with you alongside us, we can witness a message of mercy and hope to a world very much in need.

With gratitude to you, our Partners in Giving,

Our Guiding Principles

Bringing Catholic Social Teaching to Life

Invert the pyramid as we live our values— put our clients and front-line teams first

We are called to create a culture and community where Jesus' teachings come to life; assuring that all team members and clients feel seen, heard, and valued.

We serve with compassion, respect, stewardship, and excellence.

Be aware the allure (and distraction) of scale—recognize that God's math is not human math

Each life is sacred. We are called to be present one-person-at-a-time to the pain and longing that lies within each heart. From there, the rest will follow...

Amplify the impact of our work—focus on areas where our Catholic identity, our network, and our century of service make us a unique and valued partner and provider

The provision of human services is not a competition—there is plenty of need to go around. Each provider is our partner in God's call to serve.

It is up to us to recognize, proclaim, and allow the Holy Spirit in to enliven our unique role in the call to serve. That is when we flourish in doing God's work.

Regularly reflect—ask God, how are we called to serve, learn, and grow?

Client and community impact—by making a tangible difference in people's lives and futures, individually and collectively, and by sharing those stories of mercy and hope—is how we witness through service.

As trusted stewards, we are called to challenge ourselves to do more and do better with the resources and people entrusted to our care.

Trusted Partner and Steward

Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago was founded more than a century ago to meet human need through the Mission of Charity. Each day we partner to make a difference on behalf of the vulnerable, the suffering, the overlooked.

A trusted partner and steward, Catholic Charities has grown to be one of the largest human service providers in the Chicago metropolitan region. Amid the aftershocks of the pandemic, our staff and volunteers continue to step up with courage and compassion.

A case in point: Since September, nearly 4,000 migrant men, women, and children have arrived in Chicago. These courageous souls have come to our country seeking asylum—relief from gang violence, political oppression, and crushing poverty. The victims of ongoing political instability and changing climate conditions, they have risked robbery, abuse, and even death, to create new opportunities for their families.

At Catholic Charities, our faith calls us to “welcome the stranger,” and so we have. Our remit has been to hear each newcomer’s story and help them make the connections they need to either relocate to join family members already residing in the US, or to find their way to short-term shelter, where they can begin the process of building new lives.

And now local government leaders have asked us to help ensure the integration and stability of these asylum seekers within our communities. We are honored to be the trusted partner to whom our leaders turn for this important work.

On the opposite page, you can see the principles we have been using to guide our work throughout the pandemic. This work provides just one more example of how we are working to bring the social teachings of the Catholic Church to life.

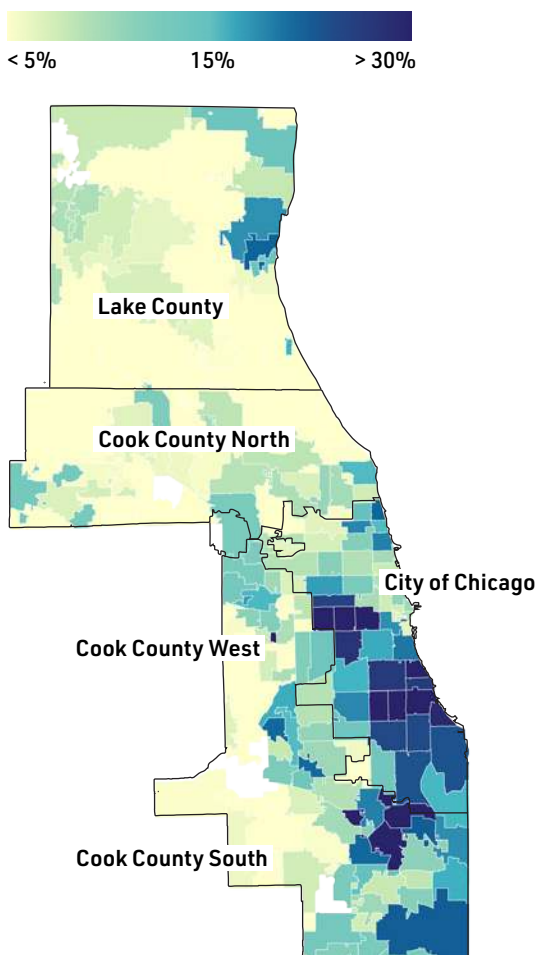

In our ongoing outreach with parishes and priests, we will be seeking sponsors for as many of these families as possible—providing these brave families with homes, furniture, food, schooling, community, and whatever they may need for a new start in life.

If you feel called to sponsor a family, please reach out to welcomethestranger@catholiccharities.net.

Serving Our Neighbors in Need in Lake and Cook Counties

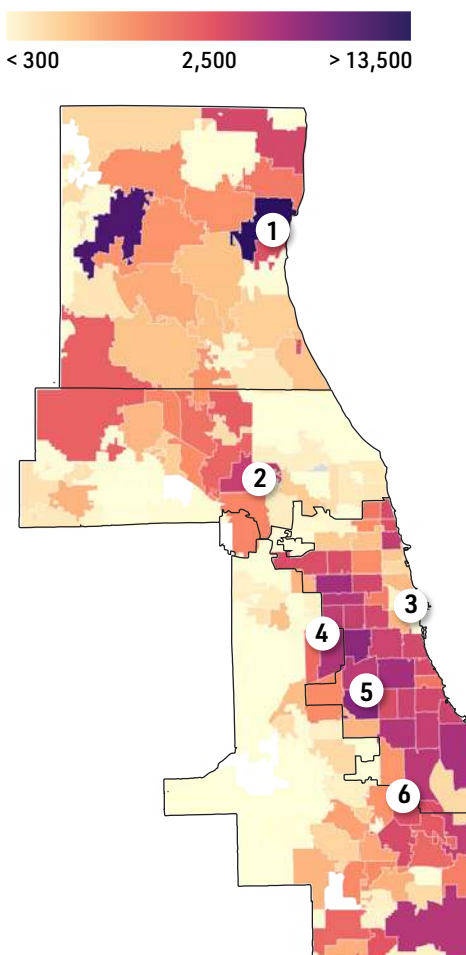

With a commitment to excellence in how we serve, Catholic Charities meets clients where they are; we offer nourishment, counseling, shelter, and other critical services to our most vulnerable neighbors regardless of their faith, gender, race, or ethnicity.

[†]Deceased

Earlier this fall, Catholic Charities celebrated our amazing staff with an afternoon of fellowship, food, and fun. Sister Edyta and Sister Hyacinth were among the 800+ staff who joined the outing which was created to honor our dedicated employees for their continual commitment to our mission.

About Our Funding

100% of donations to Catholic Charities go directly to our mission and charitable works. We are financially independent from the Archdiocese of Chicago. We do not donate to the Archdiocese, nor do we regularly accept funds from them, except when their donors designate gifts to support our work. Our donors, and those we serve, represent a range of faith backgrounds and robust diversity. We are proud of our Platinum GuideStar rating as an independent nonprofit.

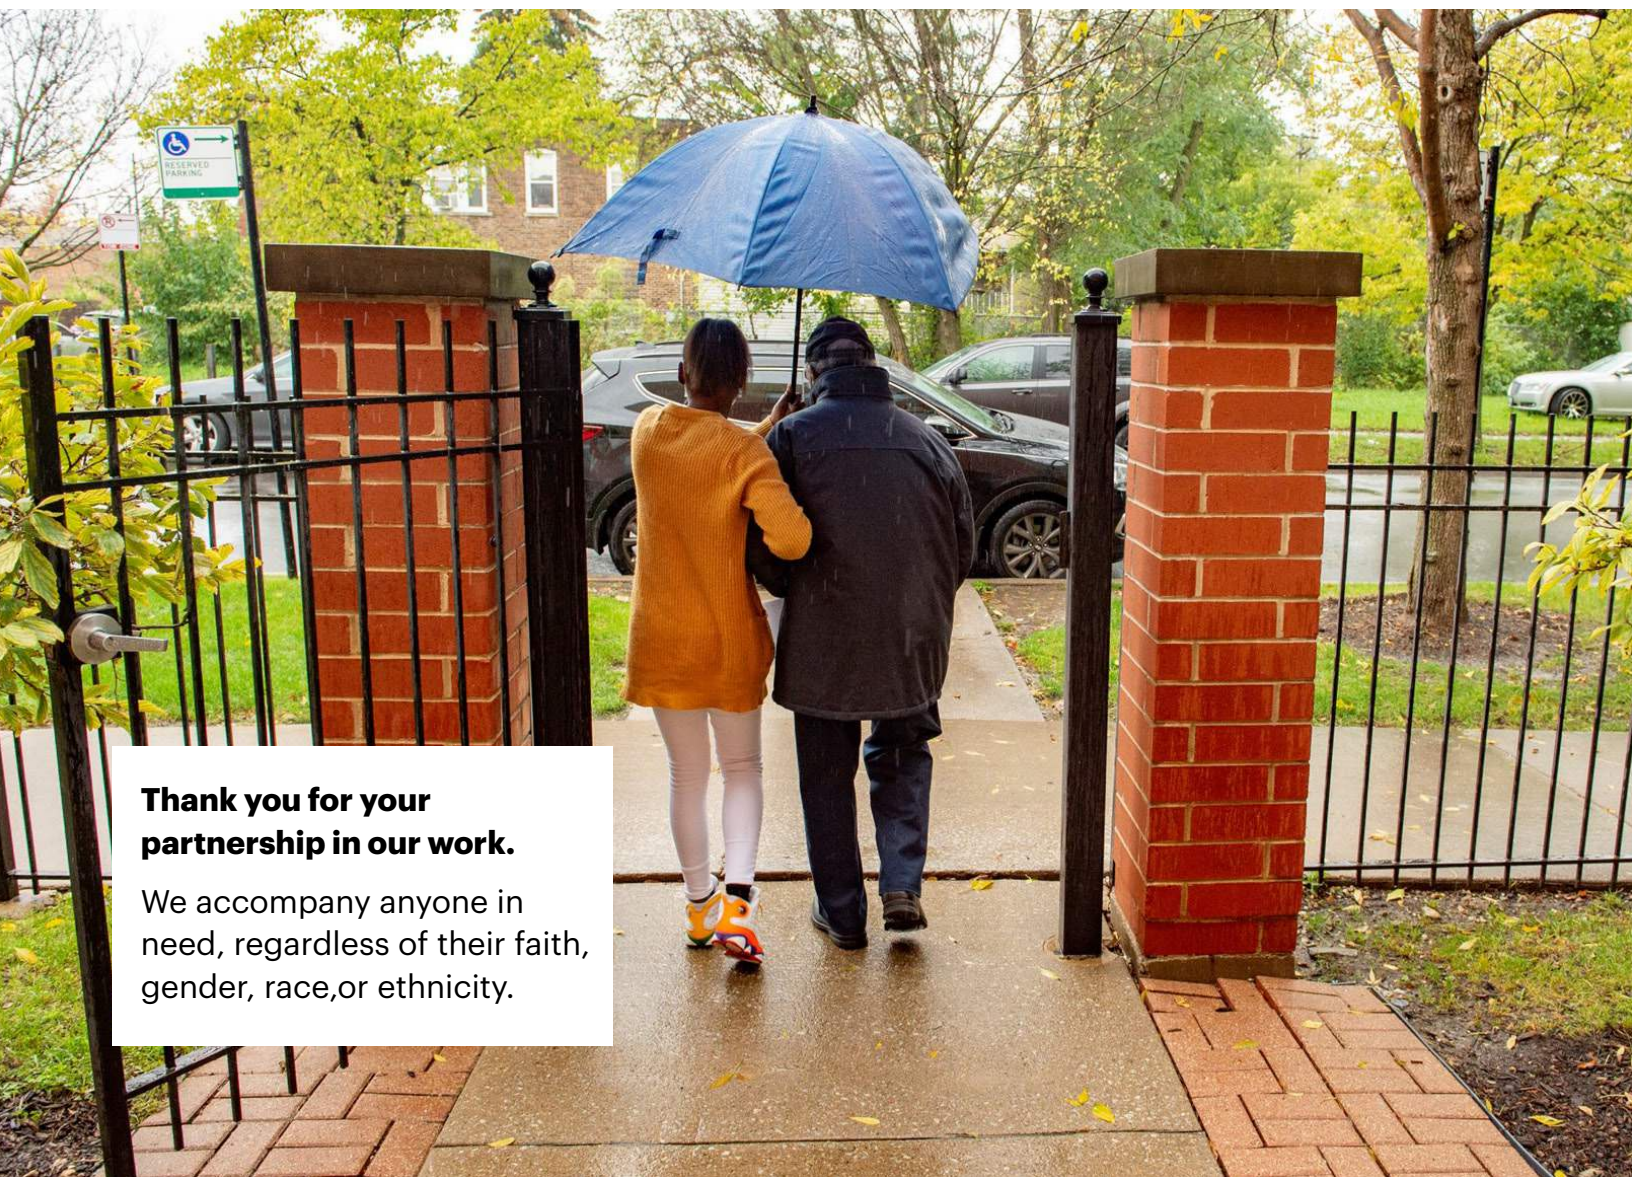

We are fully responsible for securing our own funding. We rely on mission-driven individuals like you to join us in caring for our vulnerable neighbors, many of whom are newly struggling and in need. With your help, we provide coordinated services to those who seek more stable and peaceful lives.

We receive government funding, but your support allows us to expand our footprint, innovate programs, and give witness to our mission. We are a go-to partner for government and civic leaders, particularly in times of need, but local, state, and federal budgets for human services are on the decline. Government funds received by Catholic Charities have fallen by more than 40% in real terms over the last decade, while demand for our services grows exponentially.

We invite you to speak with our Institutional Advancement team about supporting our work. Call 312.655.7508 or email our team at donor.relations@catholiccharities.net.
